

ActuComp

ActuComp is specialised in services and products in the triangle of the Insurance and Pension Business, Actuarial Science and Information and Communication Technology. Insurance companies and pension funds as well as enterprises have to be compliant with an increasing number of regulations, calculation principles and accounting standards. This causes a great demand on the calculation capacities, not only quantitative but also qualitative. ActuComp offers calculation services to these companies.

ActuComp combines thorough knowledge of the insurance and pension business and actuarial science with ICT. Our consultants are well equipped to act as bridge-builders and communicators, and have a rich relevant industry experience. Creative and innovative thinking and working creates added value for our clients, to which we can count Insurance companies, Pension funds, enterprises as well as consultancy firms.

Computational Services

- develops and exploits actuarial models
- defines insurance computational rules
- performs various actuarial calculations related to life and pensions
- values pension and insurance liabilities concerning (international) accounting
- provides actuarial components, tools and related applications

International Consultancy

Because of globalisation of the Pension Market there is need for international consulting. ActuComp is active in a wide international network of related well known consultancy firms (pension advisors, actuarial firms, asset management consultants). Together with our partners we can offer the best solutions with respect to European and local regulations.
